

Candia Recycling Center and Yard Waste

Summer is here and residents are working in their yards, cutting grass, pulling weeds and generating yard waste. In the past, when we brought our trash to the old incinerator site, yard waste was accepted because the site had enough room for handling and composting it. The new recycling center has never been able to accept yard waste because the site was neither designed nor built to handle yard waste. There is no room on the new site for a composting operation. There are burn piles for brush and untreated wood and the facility allows that material. Please call first (483-2892) to see if there is room in the piles before bringing it over. We are looking into the possibility of burning yard waste and will update the announcement if that happens.

Our facility operators sympathize with those that would like to bring yard waste to the facility, but that option is unavailable at the current time. We understand there are private local composting operations that will accept yard waste, but the town has no formal agreement with them. If you have any questions about the matter, please call the town offices (483-8101).
